

HEAVY FLOODS GRIP NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

HEAVIEST RAINFALL IN FIVE YEARS; WEATHER MAN SAYS CONDITIONS CLEARING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—With Northern California gripped in the heaviest floods in five years, indications today were that the peak of the storm was passing and there were still hopes of averting serious disasters which for a time seemed to threaten in the Sacramento valley.

Although it was believed losses to the farmers in the valley would be heavy if the storm continues, it was predicted if the storm subsided the damage would not be ruinous. The weather bureau today reported "clearing weather," and it was expected the storm was breaking up.

SUTTER FARMERS ARE DYNAMITING LEVEES

EXPLOSION OF SUFFICIENT VIOLENCE TO SHAKE WINDOWS FOR MILES AROUND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Nov. 19.—Rumors were circulated in Marysville today that farmers in the Sutter Basin district were dynamiting levees of the Sutter Basin by-pass, following a series of violent explosions heard here at 5:30 a. m.

The levees protected rice crops worth $25,000,000 from flood waters of the Sacramento river. The explosion was sufficiently violent to shake windows for miles.

STABILIZATION OF BUSINESS IS IMPORTANT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Believing stabilization of business is of the highest importance, the United States Steel Corporation has decided not to increase prices, although the cost of manufacturing has increased, Judge Gary, chairman of the corporation, announced today.

AN INTERESTING "HELLO" STORY

Pacific Telephone Co.
Holds ReceptionA LESSON FOR THE PUBLIC—
PATIENCE OF OPERATORS
NOT APPRECIATED

Are you the man who talks "sassy" to "central," or the woman who "can't see why" "central" can't give her the party she's calling, immediately, if not sooner?

If you accepted the invitation of the local branch of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company to attend their "at home" yesterday afternoon and evening, you understand many things you know little about before, and you will not be the man or woman who scolds and finds fault and blames the telephone operator unjustly.

Their Training

The telephone operator is trained to be courteous to patrons, whether patrons are considerate or crochety. This is in itself a wonderful life-lesson for the girls: to be polite to everyone, under every circumstance—to accomplish it you must call out self-control and patience and tolerance; and these are dependant upon will power. One of the first lessons the operator learns, then develops her will power.

A whole month's training on a dummy board precedes any actual telephone work in the training of an operator. It is like going to school to study the primer; numbers and "jacks" on the board must be learned by rote, as we learned to read the syllables and first words of our primer. After the operator can "plug in" accurately in any place in the dummy board, she's ready for promotion. When she goes to the board, in the second month, she is able to serve, but is under the supervision of a coach who "listens in" and helps the novice by suggestions and instructions to concentrate, the second great lesson that is useful not only in her work at the switchboard but also in every other thing she does in life.

It takes from four to six months to learn to be a good operator and even after that there is always the central office instructor who "listens in" on the work of each operator and tests her work point by point: length of time to get connection, whether the tone of voice is pleasing or otherwise, whether she got the patron to respond when she repeated the number, etc.

The operator's attention is called to these points on her test sheet, not in a spirit of harsh criticism, but in a kindly way that arouses her ambition to improve, as an advantage to herself as well as a benefit to the service.

Diversions of Work

Next to the chief operator come the supervisors, each one of whom has charge of a section of eight operators. They superintend the work of the girls of their section. A young lady in another department gives information and adjusts complaints. There are thirty operators in all. The chief operator has general charge of the entire force of young ladies. She is Miss Helen Winkler, a young lady of intelligence, tact, diplomacy and the courtesy that springs from real kindness; and all these qualities are requisites in the position she holds.

The Duties

All of us who watched yesterday the swift unerring movements of these young ladies as they reached hither and yon handling the long sinuous cords so dexterously as they "plugged in" here and released there, listening for this number and that number and the next number, concentrating strictly on their own work amid the confusion of other voices calling other numbers—all of us were impressed with the nerve-strain involved in this service which these sisters of ours render you and me many times a day. Some of us, let us hope, resolved to emulate their prompt, to-the-point manner and their distinct enunciation in giving numbers; surely all of us resolved to try to curb impatience and fretfulness and injustice in our dealings with them over the telephone.

Hours of Service

The eight-hour shift is broken twice by a fifteen-minute rest period, once in the forenoon, once in the afternoon. Adjoining the operating room on the third floor is a rest room with couch and easy chairs where any girl who is ill or who is over-fatigued may rest, while the supervisor takes her place.

The Rest Room

But the large rest room is down on the first floor, adjoining the office. It is restful just to stand in the doorway and take in the effect of the cheerful rugs and harmonious draperies, comfortable willow chairs with their pretty cushions that match the hangings, the library table with its reading lamp and the cozy couch, whose upholstery also blends with the hangings. The room is light and well ventilated. At one end, concealed by a screen, is a two-burner gas plate where the young ladies may make tea or warm up things they bring in their lunches. There is a

A THOUSAND
NEW HOMES

A SPLENDID RECORD IN BUILDING FOR GLENDALE FOR YEAR

$229,310 FOR NOV.

NEARLY THREE MILLION DOLLARS IN PERMITS FOR 1920 TO DATE

If all the cities of the nation would do even half as well as Glendale in building that shortage of a million homes would soon be relieved. Already fully seventy-five new residences have been started this month and there have been several permits issued for the remodeling of old buildings to give them greater accommodations. The permits issued so far this month total $229,310 and the year this far shows a valuation of $2,877,987. Nearly every residence completed thus far has been occupied by the owner or sold to some eager buyer wishing to settle in Glendale. Fully 1000 places of residence, including courts, apartment houses and garages, have been completed since January 1, 1920. Yesterday's record in permits was as follows:

412 Milford	4,300
W. L. Truitt, 5 rooms, 343 Pioneer Drive	4,000
Mrs. M. H. Walker, 5 rooms and garage, 314 Magnolia Ave.	3,000
Samuel L. Bowers, 4 rooms, 505 Patterson Ave.	3,000
Matilda Spellbring, 3-room garage, 601 N. Central Ave., rear	2,000
Anna Geldmacher, 4 rooms and garage, 610 Howard	2,000
Robert P. Austin, 3 rooms, 628 E. Maple	1,200
Myrtle M. Bush, remodeling 218 E. Maple	300
W. L. Truitt, addition, 317 W. Doran	200
W. W. Rattray, addition, 343 W. Acacia Ave.	200

Need $25,000 More

The committee on raising funds for the new Presbyterian church building, H. L. Finley, chairman, enjoyed a supper last evening at the White Inn. About forty-five were present. Reports were read showing that this committee had raised $25,000, which makes $75,000 now provided for the work, an initial gift of $50,000 having been made a few months ago. Canvassers were appointed to spend the week of November 21 to 28 in trying to raise the remaining $25,000 needed.

FOR CHARITY

GLENDALE ELKS WILL DISPOSE OF THANKSGIVING TURKEYS TO SWELL FUND

For several years it has been the custom of the Glendale Elks lodge to secure a large number of turkeys which they dispose of just before Thanksgiving, the proceeds going into the charity fund box.

Those in charge of this event this year have provided some unusually fine birds and these will be disposed of Monday evening. This is an event that the Elks always look forward to and a record attendance is expected Monday night.

Reading Circle Meets

The Mothers' Reading circle held an interesting session Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Hartley Shaw, 212 West Park avenue.

The greater part of the time was given to the reading of Luther Burbank's "The Training of the Human Plant," the book the ladies have adopted as a basis for study. Reviews of books read last year are being given by different members; the review for this meeting was given by Mrs. Irving Oliver, and the book she chose was "The Study of Book Nature," by Elizabeth Harrison.

Mrs. Charles M. Calderwood, wife of the new pastor of the Congregational church, was a guest of the afternoon.

There will be no meeting on next Wednesday because of its being the eve of Thanksgiving. Meetings of this circle are held regularly on Wednesdays from 11 to 2 o'clock. Ladies bring their lunches, and enjoy a social hour at noon. Everyone interested is cordially invited to come and get acquainted and profit by the study of the club.

WEEKLY MEETING OF CITY TRUSTEES

ALL BIDS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SYCAMORE CANYON ROAD REJECTED

CONTRACT TO FERRY

MUCH STREET IMPROVEMENT WORK IS IN PROSPECT

The board assembled at 8 o'clock p. m., November 18, Trustees Mrs. Bartlett, C. N. Henry, Spencer Robinson, Hartley Shaw and Dwight W. Stephenson being present.

The minutes of the regular meeting of November 12 were read and a correction ordered to be made to the effect that the permit granted Mrs. Jessie B. Mock was granted on condition that only a limited number of patients be accommodated, none of whom shall be afflicted with any mental disorder or tuberculosis.

When an invitation was given spectators to address the board Francis Booth spoke briefly in opposition to the opening of Commercial street. The chairman suggested that this matter be laid over for two weeks and on motion of Trustee Stephenson it was ordered that the hearing in regard to the opening of Commercial street be taken up at 8 p. m., December 2.

Bids received for the improvement of Maple street were read from Peter L. Ferry, W. D. McCray, H. E. Cox and Baker & Chalmers. Bids were referred to the city engineer to check up and report.

A communication was presented from Helen Humphries making application for a permit to conduct a boarding home for healthy children. The communication was referred to the city attorney who reported that such a permit is not required.

A petition was presented signed by Mrs. E. D. Potter and about twenty-five other residents and property owners in the district protesting against granting a permit for the use of the house at 250 North Verdugo Road as a sanitarium; stating that in the belief of the petitioners

UNION SERVICES

THANKSGIVING DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY CHURCHES; OFFERING FOR NEAR EAST

The annual union Thanksgiving service will be held this year in the First M. E. church and the sermon will be preached by Rev. V. Hunter Brink, D. D., pastor of Central avenue M. E. church. Music will be furnished by the Central Christian church choir. The services will commence promptly at 10 a. m. so that all who attend can be home by noon. An important feature will be the offering for the starving women and children of Europe and Asia. It is hoped that large sum will be given as the need is great. Rev. Dana Bartlett, well known minister and charity worker of Los Angeles, is supervising the work in this district and he says that none of us have any idea of the awful conditions in the war torn regions of the old world, where many thousands of women and children are starving to death. Large numbers of them have already lost their lives in this way.

Autos Collide

A Ford and a Maxwell came together with a crash last evening at the crossing of Adams and Colorado and the Ford was overturned. The radiator and windshield were considerably damaged and the driver's hip was bruised. He managed to drive away, however, when his car was righted. He gave the name of L. L. Haviland. The driver of the Maxwell, Frank H. Spong of 1432 West Eighteenth street, Los Angeles, was driving east on Colorado when the collision occurred. His machine was considerably damaged about the front.

At Mission Inn

Two Glendale residents will be the honor guests at a dinner given at Mission Inn, Riverside, this evening. They are Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kuntzner, of 829 Ross street, and their hosts are Mr. and Mrs. H. LaFevre, of St. Louis, who are wintering at the famous Inn.

Mrs. Kuntzner and Mrs. LaFevre were college friends in the days when both called St. Louis their home.

MORE THAN 1000 ENROLL

MRS. HAYWARD PLEASED WITH RESULT OF RED CROSS DRIVE

ONE WEEK TO WORK

HOPES TO REACH QUOTA OF $2000 BEFORE NEXT TUESDAY

Reports received by Mrs. Hayward up to last night indicate that $1067 had been collected in the Red Cross roll call while many of the canvassers have not yet been heard from. Mrs. Hayward says that she was unable to secure workers for some of the streets and she asks those who have been waiting for the canvassers to call to please bring their contributions to the Glendale Savings Bank, the First National Bank or the Glendale Avenue branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank or mail checks payable to the Red Cross to The Evening News office or to her through postoffice box 67.

Reports in at this time give the palm to Oak street for the highest percentage of membership, although two blocks on North Maryland are nearly 100 per cent perfect. St. Mark's Episcopal church enrolled practically 100 per cent of Sunday's congregation and the Tropic Presbyterian church also made a splendid record.

Mrs. Hayward asks all canvassers who have been unable to use their supplies to turn them in to her Saturday and requests that all workers make an effort to complete the canvass and turn in their reports by Tuesday.

ROOMS ALL TAKEN

OCCUPANTS WAITING FOR COMPLETION OF GOODNO AND KENT BUILDINGS

The new store buildings being erected on the two lots next south of the Glendale Theatre by Charles W. Kent & Son, and now approaching completion, present some ideas of architecture in business blocks new in Glendale, particularly the roof plan, with sloping tile front, and the high arched openings on to the street.

In the Goodno building, which is just south of the Glendale Theatre, the first room is to be occupied by Mrs. B. F. Cook, with a high-class confectionery, restaurant and lunch room.

The next room has been secured by Charles W. Kent & Son, architects and builders. The third and last room in this building will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Katz, with ladies' ready-to-wear garments.

There are four business rooms in Roy L. Kent's building, which joins Mrs. Goodno's on the south.

The first has been leased by P. E. Dowd, who will conduct a dairy lunch and sell bakery goods. Mrs. Walleott's Beauty Parlors will occupy the second room.

Gelmor's ladies' and men's tailoring establishment will move into the third room.

The Royal Coffee Shoppe, dispensing coffees and teas, will occupy the fourth of these rooms.

It is hoped that all will be ready for occupancy soon after December 1.

BUSINESS CONFIDENCE

A GLANCE at today's Evening News is evidence to the man who is familiar with good newspaper business that the patrons of the paper believe it pays to use the columns of their daily paper as an advertising medium. The Evening News has a warm place in the hearts of the citizens of Glendale. They declare its business methods are built on a foundation of fairness to its patrons—that it is free from questionable promotion schemes, and stands firmly all the time for the things that are for the building up of Glendale. Thank you for the many expressions of business confidence.

WEATHER FORECAST—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Less fall of rain than usual at this time of season. The winter rains may, however, make up for the deficiency.

GERMANY CONSIDERS PEACE TREATY NIL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—Germany no longer considers herself bound by the clauses of the peace treaty under which she surrendered her colonies. This position was taken in an appeal Germany addressed to the League of Nations today. The appeal protested against establishing mandates for former German colonies. It declared that the allies had not abided by the treaty, which provided that mandates for the former German colonies were to be distributed by the League. Germany states that she signed the peace treaty with the expectation of being admitted and thus being permitted to participate in the distribution of mandates over her colonies.

FRANK NEBEKER ASSISTANT TO ATTY.-GEN.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Wilson today made the recess appointment of Frank Nebeker of Utah to be assistant to the attorney general.

PLUNDER AND AUTOMOBILE RECOVERED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 19.—Seven more arrests were made today in connection with the Burlington mail robbery at Council Bluffs. A large amount of plunder and the automobile in which the robbers escaped on the night of the robbery were recovered.

SIXTEEN LUMBER WORKERS DROWN IN LAKE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LEWISTON, Maine, Nov. 19.—Sixteen lumber jacks were drowned and four more barely escaped death when a motor boat in which they were crossing a lake near here caught fire, according to reports received today.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE TOMORROW IS CHILDREN'S DAY

H. P. COURTNEY VICTIM OF PLOT ON PART OF WIFE AND MANY FRIENDS

A very elaborate surprise party was given last evening in celebration of the birthday of H. P. Courtney. Plans had been so carefully made by Mrs. Courtney and friends that Mr. Courtney had no intimation whatsoever of the very pleasant affair to be given in his honor. About seventy friends and business acquaintances assembled at his home at 217 South Orange street. Decorations of chrysanthemums, roses, carnations and daisies were in evidence throughout the house. Cards, games, dancing and a wonderful musical program were enjoyed, following which a banquet was served. The out-of-town guests included Arthur Kerr, manager of the Los Angeles Transfer Co., and wife; Dr. Carl Fenz, Prof. and Mrs. Marshall, recently returned from Africa; Prof. C. Hauser, talented musician; Mr. and Mrs. M. Romaine, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Romaine, and Rev. M. Norres of Los Angeles; Mrs. Lee and daughter, Ruth, who is a prominent actress on the Orpheum circuit, and Mrs. B. Hauser of Minneapolis, Minn., who is the house guest of Mrs. Courtney.

TOMORROW GLENDALE LIBRARY

WILL EMPHASIZE BETTER

READING

NATIONAL MOVEMENT

TREAT IN STORE FOR ALL THE

CHILDREN WHO ATTEND

SATURDAY

The American Library association has set aside the current week as "Children's Week" to emphasize in the minds of the children of the land the important place good reading should have in their lives, and the advisability of forming the habit of reading in youth.

At Glendale public library every week of the fifty-two which form the year is "Children's Week." But to emphasize the idea in a particular way, Mrs. Danford, the librarian, has arranged a "Children's Day" for Saturday. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Miss Laura Wilford Brown will tell stories with the Thanksgiving motif predominating, and Mrs. Danford will talk to the children on the reading of the better class of books.

Every child in Glendale is invited to come; and this is a secret, but The Evening News will let out a little teeny, weeny bit of it: there's to be a treat for every child who comes; a very, very modest treat, not a great big one, but it's something every single child, big and little, likes.

Books of the better class will be displayed prominently and there are a number of new books, too, to look at.

Glorious Glendale

Glendale has grown in importance to such an extent that the Los Angeles papers are compelled to make note of its progress in their editorial columns. We quote from yesterday morning's Los Angeles Times which culled the material for this story from the columns of The Evening News:

The church people of three different denominations in Glendale are planning to build new edifices on the same street. Each structure will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 and will advance the high standard already established by the sacred architecture of this remarkable suburb. In a building way Glendale is having the time of its young life in keeping up with itself and is far beyond competition with cities of its size. Now the town proposes to furnish church pews for all comers or bust.

Death of Mrs. Collier

Mrs. Carrie D., wife of Dr. J. M. Collier of 132 South Hartwick street, Eagle Rock, died yesterday, 1 p. m. Funeral services will be held Monday, 3:30 p. m., at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn, the pastor of the Eagle Rock Congregational church officiating. Pulliam & Keifer will be in charge.

PERSONALS

Wm. Handberg of New York City is a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bailey of 400 Salem St.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Evans of South Mariposa street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl born
Sunday morning.

Miss Louise Angilly of Providence,
Rhode Island, is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E.
Angilly of 334 Salem street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Jauncey of Williamstown, Massachusetts, were the luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. W.
P. MacMullin of 215 North Brand Blvd., Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Miles and son
Owen of 412 1/2 East Harvard street are moving today to Hotel Gray on East Broadway. They were unable to find any rental property.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. White of Jonesville, Mich., who are spending the winter in Hollywood, were the guests of Mrs. Harry L. Howe of 446 Burchett street, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 221
North Central avenue were the guests of Los Angeles friends at dinner last evening, followed by a theatre party at the Orpheum.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kemper of La Crescenta left this morning for Buena Vista Lake where they will spend several days hunting geese.
Mr. Kemper is a building contractor and is well known in Glendale.

The Gabaig property at 1417 S.
Central avenue, including a residence and several lots, has been sold to eastern people, who will begin construction immediately. The large barn on this property is to be rebuilt as a double bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crane of Moline, Illinois, who arrived in Glendale two weeks ago, have decided to make it their home and have secured the residence formerly occupied by the Cramers at 631 East Acadia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Otis, formerly of Glendale, are now located at Visalia, where Mr. Otis has a position as an automobile salesman. He was formerly connected with the Ford agency, Glendale.

Word was received yesterday of the arrival of a baby son to Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford of San Francisco. Mrs. Crawford was formerly Miss Meryl Frenz, daughter of Stanley Frenz of this city. Mr. Crawford is a rice broker in the northern city.

Mrs. J. S. Ross arrived Wednesday morning from Coalinga to spend Thanksgiving with her mother and sister, Mrs. William Nichols and Miss Harriet Nichols of the Monte Vista apartments. Mr. Ross will join them later.

Mrs. C. H. Phinney of Eagle Rock, driving south on Central avenue in a Hudson car, and Dr. C. P. Taylor of 210 East Broadway, driving west on Burchett, had a collision yesterday
and both cars were badly damaged, according to the police report, but neither driver hurt.

Mrs. Ralph Proctor and little daughter Marjory of 334 Salem St., accompanied by Mrs. E. A. Bailey and Mrs. Riley Proctor, spent Wednesday at Santa Monica with Mrs. A.
A. Bailey, mother of Mrs. Ralph Proctor. Mrs. Bailey resided in Glendale for a number of years and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Bentley of 400 South Adams street have as their guests Mr. Jensen and Margory Walley of Hollister and Harry Walley of Lompoc. Mr. Walley expects to spend some time in Glendale, during which he will make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Bentley.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 246
North Orange street, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, attended the Reciprocity day program given by the Pasadena Study club at the Shakespeare club house in Pasadena yesterday. Luncheon was served and a delightful program given in the afternoon.

Eighty persons partook of the "church night" supper at Central Christian Wednesday evening. The Bible study on a portion of the Book of Acts, followed, conducted by Rev.
Cole. After a short prayer service
County Secretary Clark of the Y. M.
C. A. showed a large number of stereoscopic slides of scenes in the Red Triangle camps and around the club house. He and the local secretary, Rex C. Kelley, made brief talks on the importance of the work.

O. C. Tompkins of Detroit, father of C. O. Tompkins who was engaged in the hardware business in Glendale
a few years ago, is looking for a home in Glendale. Mr. Tompkins is in Los Angeles at present but he expects his wife, daughter and little granddaughter by the first of December and he would like to locate them in Glendale. He is an old newspaper man, having been connected with Detroit papers for many years, but expects to make his home on this coast. He reports that his son is now in Bay City, Mich.

a trip East. They will be gone about a month, during which time they will visit friends and relatives at Alva, Okla., their old home. From there they will go to Kansas City, Mo.
Prior to leaving Mr. Noble let the contract for a five-room residence to be erected on Jackson street just south of California, to W. G. Boyd.

Moreland Co. Foremen

The regular bi-monthly business meeting and dinner given by the Foremen's club of the Moreland Truck company of Burbank was held last evening at the White Inn. Those present were J. B. Moreland, W. R.
Walker, F. Matthews, J. Wiggers, A.
Wetterauer, M. W. Ferguson, W. M.
Evans, O. Zwalina, H. Woods, W. J.
Adams, C. Chute, G. L. Knox, J.
Gabel, C. R. Rogers, V. Wagoner, J.
Thorn, A. C. Whitley and A. L.
Brown. A number of these gentlemen are residents of Glendale.

"Signing of Pact"

Mrs. C. W. Houston and Mrs. S.
C. Leppelman represented the Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., of Glendale at a program and tea given at the Ebell club by the Southern California chapters of the D. A. R.
Tuesday. This was in celebration of the signing of the pact by the Pilgrims. The ladies who served tea, including Mrs. Houston and Mrs.
Leppelman, wore Pilgrim caps and capes. The program, which was really wonderful and quite worth while,
included living pictures of various phases of Pilgrim life. The "Signing of the Pact," and the "Welcome by the Indians" were the subjects of two of the pictures.

Fine Paintings

One of the accomplished artists in our midst is John W. Cotton of 1137
San Rafael avenue. Two of Mr. Cot-ton's paintings, which had been in the California Art club exhibition at Exposition park, have been taken to San Diego and are on display there. They were an oil painting of "The High Sierras," showing a typical mountain scene with the large pines and snow-capped mountains in the background, and a water color of "A Scene in France," picturing an old fortified bridge over one of the rivers.

Pork Sausage

The White Star Markets, of which there are four in Glendale owned and operated by C. Caswell, have been making quite a hit with their genuine pork sausage. This is a delicacy which many people enjoy, but it is difficult to secure, as most of the ordinary sausage comes from the packing houses. Much of this sausage is made of scraps of various kinds of meat with a filler of low grade flour.
Mr. Caswell uses nothing but choice pork in his sausage and the result is that he can't make enough to supply the demand. It's the kind that "hits the spot." Mr. Caswell has some choice Thanksgiving poultry for which he is taking orders now.

Cafeteria Supper

Young people of the Congregational church are deep in plans for winter evening meetings. In order to impart to each other the bright ideas that have popped into their alert young minds since they last met together, they will assemble this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Hartley Shaw, 212 West Park avenue, for a cafeteria supper, and over the tea-cups—no, over their milk glasses (for no sensible young person drinks tea) they will exchange ideas and make plans for these meetings. The new pastor will be their guest, and may have an idea or so himself to suggest, and every young man or young woman who is interested is welcome to attend.

Whist Party

Fifty guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Clark, 606
North Orange street, last evening,
when they entertained with a whist party for the benefit of the bazaar which the ladies of the Church of the Holy Family are planning for an early date in December.

The house was adorned with carnations and California holly, and refreshments after the games were served on card tables, where pleasant conversation held sway until a late hour.

The ladies report a substantial sum added to their bazaar fund, as well as an enjoyable, friendship-promoting evening.

Delayed "Shivaree"

Ellsworth Heald and bride returned from their honeymoon trip yesterday and were taking a stroll along Brand last evening when they were discovered by a crowd of young people from whom they cleverly escaped just after their marriage, but who now saw the opportunity to get even.
So they showered the young couple with rice and followed them down the street until they escaped into the telephone building. They were trailed about from room to room, however, and when they started for their place of residence at 308 East Lomita avenue, were followed by a big touring car, the spotlight of which was kept focused on them as they walked along the street. Horns and whistles were sounded constantly by the merry-makers, who ceased not their tormenting until the doors of the home closed on them.

More Houses Completed

The records of the Public Service Department show a number of new houses receiving the finishing touches as indicated by the ordering of electric light meters. Yesterday's list includes F. B. Nay's temporary garage home at 351 North Central avenue; B. C. Chase's residence at 666 West Doran; C. E. Walker, 114A
South Louise; J. F. Matthews, Co-
lina Drive; Mr. Wellman, 554 Pioneer Drive; P. E. Gilman, 150 South Central avenue; Arndt Last, 133
South Adams.

Drunken Driver

At 12:15 o'clock last night Officer Blix, who was at the crossing of Brand and Broadway, noticed an auto being driven north on the left side of Brand. He stopped the driver and asked what he meant by such action. A confused response was made so he called Officer Herbert to his assistance and they took the man from the machine as he appeared to be drunk. They called Dr. Eckles and he, after an examination, confirmed this diagnosis, so the man, who gave his name as C. E. Stout and his address as 1045 East Fifty-third street, Los Angeles, was taken to the city jail and locked up. He was driving a rented car. A pint bottle of liquor was found in the machine.
This is the third arrest of the kind in the past few weeks.

Old Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rigdon of 224 West Doran street, have been entertaining old friends of theirs,
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bender, of Holton,
Kan., who are on their way home
from the world's Sunday school convention held in Tokio, Japan.

Automobile trips to Redlands and Riverside, a day at San Diego and nearby points of interest and a general good visit together made their few days' visit together pass all too quickly.

Mr. and Mrs. Bender left on Wednesday for their Kansas home, from which they have been absent for three months.

Bunco Party

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kuntzner were hosts to a group of friends last evening in their pretty home in the foothills, 329 Ross street.

Juniper berries and California
holly lent their beauty to adorn the room where the Kuntznerns entertained their guests with bunco, the jolly new game that is the vogue just now and is rapidly superceding cards in the regard of those who prefer talking and jollity to taxing one's brain at a game.

Those who shared the pleasures of the evening were Messrs. Warren Roberts, T. B. McClintock of Hollywood; Arthur Pomeroy, and the host and hostess.

Light refreshments were served at the two tables where the game held sway.

Many have made their reservations
for the special Thanksgiving dinner to be served at the White Inn for $2 a plate. At the present price of turkey and "fixin's" this is more reasonable than a dinner can be served at home.—Adv. 14

Sacrificing the Future

France knows her own interests best, but to many of us she appears to be shortsighted, sacrificing the future to the present. If she could build up, as she desires, a grandiose Poland as a barrier between Germany and Russia, how unhappy would be the plight of such a state in twenty or thirty years' time or perhaps less.
Some day the great Russian people will revive. Germany cannot for all time be made a slave-state working for her neighbors. Permanent hostility to Germany and Russia will not prevent them eventually from establishing contact, over the body of Poland if there be no other way. Justice will not permit that Austria for all time should be kept apart from the Germany that she desires to join. Not always can Germany and Austria and Russia be kept outside the League of Nations and finally, to go to the foundations of the question, how can France herself gain in the long run by prolonging strife and civil war over a large part of Europe, by perpetuating the reign of the old diplomacy and the old doctrine of force, and by frustrating the idea of international co-operation and the interdependence of civilized communities? For ourselves we make no bones about it. We are no more interested now than President Wilson declared himself to be in 1918 in partial leagues and counter-leagues, which make only a barrenness and war. We maintain that our own well-being and the well-being of the great countries and vast populations of Central and Eastern Europe depend on peaceful co-operation and that it is our duty as well as our interest to pursue these, if possible, in accord with our ally, France, but if necessary, alone.—Independent.

IN CHINA
THOUSANDS DIE OF CHOLERA
OR FAMINE; GRUESOME
SIGHTS SEEN IN CHENGDU

By CHARLES EDWARD HOGUE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHENGDU, Szechuen Province, CHINA. (By Mail.)
—Hundreds of bodies strewn on the streets, with carrying coolies falling dead while they attempt to bear caskets to the grave mounds, are some of the gruesome sights to be seen in Chengtu today.

Cholera has stricken this, the richest province in all China, and its widespread disaster is directly chargeable to the militaristic bickerings which have sent this ancient nation to the verge of disaster. With eight military factions engaged in outlaws, Szechuen province is in dire straits. Cities have been violated, residents outraged and the country districts thrown into such a state of panic that the farmers are afraid to bring their produce to the markets because of the menace of the roving bands of soldiers.

Foreign medical men took up the fight against cholera when it became epidemic and had made fair headway towards controlling the disease. Then the Southern army invaded the province and the Szechuenese army divided into many groups of warring factions.

The populace became so frightened that the health regulations imposed by the foreigners were ignored and soon the death list here alone mounted as high as 1000 persons daily.

In the meantime a political movement of grave portent is on foot. Lu Chao, head of the military organization known as the Fifth Division, has taken charge of the capital city as military governor. In the meantime, Hsuing Keh-wu, who was driven from that post by Lu in July, has gone southward to join forces with Liu Tsen-hou, who he drove out of the office two years ago by force of arms. Now the pair of former enemies are uniting in a common cause against Lu Chao.

Estimates have been made that at least $200,000,000 must be raised to relieve the present famine situation.

Housing Problems
"California is confronted today with the greatest shortage of housing in its history," says a report just submitted to Governor Stephens by the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, whose experts for months past have been making a study of the housing dearth. The report analyzes the causes of the dwelling famine, and outlines the means by which it may be remedied.

The findings set forth in the report will probably be used as the basis for suggested legislation at the next session, the purpose of which will be to stimulate building by making it easier for the person of small means to build and buy a home.

"The judgment of our housing staff, based on observation and inquiry throughout California," says the report, "is that the residential shortage in California today is perhaps 10 per cent of the present total."

The usual surplus of housing, which must exist if rents and prices are to be controlled by competition, has been wiped out, and must be added to the 10 per cent estimated actual shortage, says the report.

The loudest demand is for the housing of the wage-earning and salaried classes—the four, five and six-roomed dwelling. It is stated.

"The 'housing problem,' in other words, has ceased to be primarily a matter of the slum, and has become a middle-class problem."

The report gives the following causes for the state's lack of sufficient housing:

1. An increase in population of 44.1 per cent in ten years. In some districts this is practically all "new" population, as new industries have grown up recently, and in these places the problem is at its worst.
2. Cessation of residential building dating practically from 1914, and enforced by the regulations of the War Industries Board from 1917 on.
3. High cost of all materials used in building, with high cost of transportation, high wages, and high rates of interest. An important comment is as follows:

"Business men at the regional conferences agreed that no great decline in the cost of building materials could be looked for in some time, perhaps years. Whereas, the general price level has risen since 1914 about 100 per cent, the cost of building has risen only about 60 per cent, and is apparently not inflated."

The fourth cause given by the commission for the shortage was the fact that the public's standards of housing have risen with the wartime rise in wages. Workers want better homes, as attested by the fact that it is the five and six-roomed homes that are lacking rather than the poorer classes of housing.

The first remedy suggested by the commission is the modification of the state housing laws so as to permit certain new types of construction to be made.

To this end, the commission has sent broadcast invitations to persons prominent in the housing industries, labor leaders, realty concerns, bankers, etc., and also to officials who enforce the law. Between now and the coming legislature, the legal situation is to be thrashed out and legislation drafted by advice of all concerned.

New building projects, particularly the formation of community housing associations, are recommended by the commission. Such associations, linking the banks with the builders and contractors on a community basis, are operating in certain towns in California, the report states, and their effect is to enable the purchase of homes at lower cost, with smaller "down" payments and longer time to pay in, than the present system of individual concerns.

cupboard with cooking utensils and good dishes, everything, in fact, that would contribute to the well-being of the girls who use the room.

Adjoining this retiring room where the girls may spend their lunch hour and their fifteen-minute rest periods is the cloak room and the lavatory, both large, light and airy, and kept with strict regard to sanitation. On one wall of the cloak room is a board containing each girl's number, with a hook below. Here she hangs her headset when she comes in off duty. Each girl has her own individual headset, and all the horns are disinfected and sterilized every night by the janitor.

View of the Plant

District Manager Fred Deal acted as reception committee yesterday assisted by several of the young ladies. They bade guests view the plant "from turret to foundation-stone"—only we reversed the order of the quotation and began in the basement, where two very bright young men explained to us thoroughly the entrance into the basement of the underground cables, each holding 500 pairs of wires so fine they are almost like hairs; the wonderful heating plant with its rotary crude oil burner, and its automatic alarm that rings when the steam pressure gets too great, and the device which at the same time automatically turns off the gas, so there's no fire to make still more steam. Besides heating the entire house, this furnace also heats water for the use of the young ladies.

There is an auxiliary gas engine that charges the batteries furnishing "juice" for lights and also for telephoning. This is always used at night and also when the electricity from the city plant fails us, as it did in the electrical storm of a few weeks ago.

Here and all through the plant are wonderful protective devices that ring warning bells when something goes wrong and that automatically ground the wires or throw off the current, thus safeguarding the inmates of the building from injury, and preventing fire.

The Building

The large three-story brick building is as near fireproof as it is possible for a building to be. The floors and stairways are all of cement, painted a dove-gray, and are kept spotlessly clean. The company moved into this fine home just two years ago this month. The cost of the building and equipment was $300,000. The plant is the last word in up-to-date equipment, and safety and comfort devices for those who work there. There are adequate fire escapes and fire drills are held two or three times a month.

Toll Charges

It is interesting to note that since toll has been charged for Los Angeles calls the number of calls has fallen to from 1700 to 900 a day. Before there was a charge, the number was four or five times that many. The decrease is largely among the calls from homes, not among those from offices or business houses; this means that housewives who were in the habit of giving telephone orders to Los Angeles business houses now call up their own home merchants, or come down to the stores here to do their shopping—a circumstance that makes for the growth of Glendale in several ways: it increases the volume of business of home merchants, thus giving them a chance to give better values, better assortment, better prices; it keeps the money in circulation here at home; moreover, it keeps the buyers' interest here at home, and when we're all really interested in Glendale, we'll all pull together for Glendale. The Glendale business man who pays toll to Los Angeles may comfort himself with the thought that the increase in his business at home because of the toll far exceeds the cost of his own tolls to Los Angeles.

Thus the tolls to Los Angeles, which were strongly opposed here at first, have worked out to the benefit of Glendale.

Checking of Tolls

The three-fold check on every toll insures its correctness as to date, the length of time consumed, and charges. The operator writes your name, telephone number, the name of the party you're calling and this of the party you're calling and his you your party. As soon as you begin your conversation she presses a lever that connects her with a girl sitting at a switchboard before a huge clock in Los Angeles. This girl gives the exact time, to the half minute, and your operator writes it in the proper space on your ticket. When the light flashes up indicating that you have hung up your receiver, she again presses the lever of the big clock, and the girl there gives the exact time, which your operator records on your ticket.

She then gives the check to her supervisor for verification, and it is also verified by the chief operator, thus obviating chance of error.

As a matter of fact, telephone operators make few mistakes. Their training in concentration is so thorough, their work so carefully systematized that there is not much chance for errors. Being human beings, not automatons, they may occasionally "slip a cog," even as you and I. But since it does not happen nearly so often as it does with some of the rest of us, it seems hard that we should let the error stand out glaringly in our thought of them, and

LESSON LEARNED

BY "LISTENING IN" AT THE SWITCHBOARD AT PHONE COMPANY'S "AT HOME"

Nobody on the reception committee at the interesting "at home" held by the Glendale branch of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday even hinted at the suggestions noted below. They were inspired by the courteous, clear-cut, cheerful voices with which the young ladies at the switchboard answered all calls, while we stood for a few minutes with a headpiece on, "listening in" to the calls, cheerful and fretful, clear-cut and careless, that floated in over the wires to the girls. We made these notes, not for other Glendale people, who, to our knowledge, are all kindly and considerate, but merely for our own benefit and improvement.

Lest, however, there be just one other reader of The Evening News besides ourselves that occasionally falls a victim to the fiend irritability, we give here the lesson we learned at the telephone company's reception:

When giving central a number, use the rising inflection. For example, if calling The Evening News office, say "Glendale 1322" as if asking a question to which the answer "yes" is expected. The rising inflection makes the last figure of your number clearer than a falling inflection at the end.

Don't forget to give the prefix: "Glendale," "Los Angeles," or whatever it is.

The operator repeats your number; she does this so that you may correct her if she has it wrong. If she has it right, answer her when she repeats it. Say "yes," or preferably, "right," because the latter word carries better.

Keep your temper when things go wrong; friction in our intercourse with each other wears like sand thrown into delicate bearings in machinery; good nature and kindly forbearance are the oil that lubricates the machinery of life.

Listen to yourself occasionally to see whether you are falling into the lazy habit of mousing your words; this not only makes it hard for those listening to you on the wire, but it is also a mark of lack of culture, to be guarded against like any other lazy, sloppy habit. In listening to your own voice, notice whether your tone is pleasant, or fretful and sad. Even if you feel sad or cross, guard against letting your voice express it. "Assume a virtue if you have it not," is advice which is as good today as it was in Hamlet's time; it has been demonstrated that if you assert that a thing is true and make the assertion often enough, you'll come to believe it is true, and that will help you to make it true.

forget the faithful, efficient service they usually give us.

Many Guests

The reception yesterday was attended by more than 200 guests, all of them intensely interested in the story of the inner workings of the telephone service, all of them absorbed in the intricacies of the manifold operations that must be performed before the wonder of hearing a voice miles and miles away can be accomplished.

Many Subscribers Here

Glendale's telephone exchange now has 2980 subscribers, with over a hundred more "waiting," because of difficulty in getting materials. If any of those on the waiting list has been impatiently wondering why he couldn't have the little box that means so much to him put into his home or his office attended the reception yesterday, he wonders no longer, for one of the boys in the supply room no doubt showed him the one solitary instrument there, an old-fashioned one that no one wants; he also showed him regretfully the small amount of drop wire on hand, the wire that runs from the cables outside into your house when your telephone is connected.

Low Meat Prices

Hurd & Berry of the Acme Market say they are going to have some of the lowest prices on choice meats on Saturday that Glendale people have paid for a long time. This market is making a specialty of Thanksgiving poultry and is giving a large flock of turkeys the final feeding in their own pens. An inspection of the facilities which Messrs. Hurd and Berry have for handling their meats is quite interesting. Their refrigerating rooms are built and equipped in the most modern way for handling their meats to the best advantage.

Destroyed the Illusion

Into the restaurant she came with the air of a princess, a truly regal figure, clad in brown from top to toe and looking as if she had just visited a Parisian modiste and a beauty parlor—a perfectly groomed, handsome woman. There was an air of refinement about her. She looked expensively turned out in the simple, deceptive way.

She seated herself at a table and there were little exclamations of admiration from other diners near. A waitress approached; every one hushed to listen to the beautiful creature speak.

In a high-pitched, East side voice she ordered: "Bring me a onion omlette." It was brought, and she played it, gaily speaking, with her knife.—New York Evening Post.

Mortal Elevation

The true greatness of a nation cannot be in triumphs of the intellect alone. Literature and art may enlarge the sphere of its influence; they may adorn it; but they are in their nature but accessories. The true grandeur of humanity is in moral elevation. . . . The surest tokens of this grandeur, in a state, are that Christian beneficence, which diffuses the greatest happiness among the greatest number, and that passionless, God-like justice, which controls the relations of the state to other states, and to all the people committed to its charge.—Charles Sumner.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 18.—The United States will not have a recurrence of the Spanish influenza in epidemic form until 1947, according to the consensus of opinion of Butte physicians, who believe the nation is now immunized against the ravages of the disease. Dr. J. R. E. Sievers of the Murry hospital staff pointed to the fact the next to the last influenza epidemic occurred in 1890, and that the history of such epidemics show they rage for a year or two —until the human blood becomes immunized—and then die out. "The present generation is now protected against influenza," said Dr. Sievers. "An epidemic can be expected again among the young people who did not pass through the last epidemic and in whose blood the resistance against influenza has not generated—in about 30 years." "Influenza" cannot again create such havoc as it did before," declared County Physician P. N. McCarthy, who asserted that while the medical profession had not been able to fathom the origin of the disease, it has at least become much better acquainted with its character and is better able to handle cases." Dr. John J. Sippy, state epidemiologist, declared Montana has the enviable record of not having a case of influenza reported this fall, whereas in November, 1918, when the epidemic was at its height, 11,571 cases were reported.

SAN FRANCISCO.—In through the Golden Gate proudly rode the steamer Myrmidon. Out through the Golden Gate into the sunset, stately strode the namesake of Achilles hosts. Dimmed to a speck, then lost beyond the skyline, sailed the classic titled traveler of the seas. And there were few to note and none to honor though San Francisco had harbored a royal ransom unaware. Listen to the laconic reporter of the docks: "Steamer Myrmidon, arrived Vancouver; 25,000 cases Scotch whiskey. Called into Golden Gate en route." This cargo, the largest of its kind ever to come to the Pacific coast, was not even mentioned in a whisper here. And incidentally it was ten times more valuable in California than in Vancouver—if that makes any difference.

RICHMOND, Cal.—"The prisons of the nations are a monument to neglected boyhood," was the statement of Warden J. A. Johnston of San Quentin before the Rotary Club today. Johnston in his talk here gave many graphic illustrations to back up his belief. He added that a great number of the inmates are under 30 years of age and many under 21, and after all the problem goes back to the father and the mother, the teacher and the preacher who somewhere had failed to put over his message to the young. He said that a minute inventory of the early life of each prisoner shows that almost all began to "flirt with the law" first between the ages of 15 and 18 years. He urged care and attention upon the youths of the land. Yes, he added, Solomon thousands of years ago told what is true today when he said, "Train up a boy in the ways he should go and in his old age he will not depart from it."

"The screen shows bathing girls on the beach, in the parlor, in restaurants and on the street." "Yes, I've seen them everywhere except in the water,"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"HE" OR "SHE?"

OUR LADY REPORTER DOES NOT LOVE LIVE DUCKS

Bobs up again the carping critic to tell us we have a reporter on The Evening News who refers in an article yesterday to the Tuesday Afternoon club's goose as "he."

And the reporter admits it, but comes back with this defense: grammatically, "goose" is feminine; temperamentally, a goose has not a thing feminine about it. "Feminine," says this reporter-person, brings always to the mind the idea of gentleness, daintiness low-voiced speech, grace of bearing. Who will say a goose possesses even one of these characteristics?

Once, goes on the reporter, when we were children "back east," our dear little grandmother had a flock of geese. She made us some lovely soft pillows of their feathers; but that's the only soft thing there was about the geese. Often in the moonlight of a sultry summer evening we stole over across a short cut to grandmother's. Always as we cut across the back of her grounds, from some unexpected quarter there came the sudden hiss of this flock of geese. There was some wild breed in them; they would never sleep in the sheds provided for them. Then we would take to our heels, at least one or two of these horrid creatures in pursuit; and they ran fast, and usually managed to get at least one or two nips at our legs.

Later we read in school how a flock of geese saved Rome. The history books seemed to think it a noteworthy thing; but we of the nipped legs knew those Roman geese were accepting fame under false pretenses; they were only starting out to chase some one to get a bite out of his leg, when they waked up Rome.

No, there's nothing feminine, temperamentally, anyway, about a goose. That's why the reporter's subconsciousness registered "he."

The goose belonging to the ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club, however, is the exception that proves the rule; she's a wonder-geese as she will prove when the bazaar opens.

the same would be a detriment to adjoining property. A representative of the protestants addressed the board explaining why the protest had not previously been filed and on motion of Trustee Henry the protests were denied by the following vote: Ayes: Bartlett, Henry, Robinson, Stephenson.

Noes: Shaw. A communication was read from J. B. Treadwell requesting that certain property in the Tropico district be included in the territory within which motion picture producing establishments may be operated. This was referred to the zoning committee.

A communication was read from the zoning committee signed by Eva C. Barton, secretary, stating that at present it is the sense of the committee that the section of the city lying east of Adams street and beginning 150 feet south of Windsor Road to about 200 feet west of Hilda Drive thence southerly to the city limits, be set apart as a zone in which moving pictures may be constructed and operated; provided however, that the committee desires to hold the matter open for two weeks so that the owners of this property may be notified of the intention. The communication was ordered to be filed.

The resignation of A. J. Van Wie as superintendent of buildings was presented and on motion accepted. The resignation of P. W. Pigg as sanitary inspector was presented and on motion accepted.

A petition was presented signed by L. E. Corbin and about twenty other owners of property in the district requesting that the board take the necessary proceedings for the opening and extension of Stanley avenue from its present eastern terminus to Verdugo Road. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

At this time was matter of the acceptance of bids previously received for the improvement of Sycamore Canan Road was taken up. Trustee Stephenson stated that on account of the present high prices of labor and material in connection with the fact that these things both showed a downward tendency he favored the delay of the work, and a motion made by him to the effect that all bids be rejected was adopted.

Reports were received from the building division of the Department of Public Works showing receipt of fees for building permits amounting to $477.45, plumbing division showing receipt of fees amounting to $373.25 and electrical division showing receipt of fees amounting to $351. Number of building permits for the month 163, valuation, $326,223. Report of the division of streets of the Public Works Department showed fees received amounting to $229.40.

A written report was presented from the city manager giving an account of the session of the League of California Municipalities held in the city of Chico November 8 to 11, inclusive from which he had recently returned.

The city manager presented a recommendation that H. W. Hollenbeck be appointed sanitary inspector and that Frank Marok be appointed superintendent of buildings. On motion the recommendations of the city manager in regard to these appointments were approved and the appointments ordered to be made in accordance with the same.

A communication was presented from the city manager in regard to the cost of the reservoir site to be purchased from Judge E. M. Ross, stating that Judge Ross had informed him that he did not feel like accepting the figure of $5750 suggested by the appraisal committee, but would investigate further and let him hear from him as to the result. On November 16 Judge Ross had called him on the telephone and authorized him to report that he would sell the property in question to the city of Glendale for the sum of $7000. This report was referred to the committee of the whole.

The city manager reported in regard to the plan for a temporary sewer system in the congested district that the block on the northeast corner of Broadway and Brand boulevard would probably be included in the plan that had been presented.

A communication was presented from H. E. Wells and about twenty other property owners on Brand boulevard between San Fernando Road and the southerly city limits of Glendale protesting against the proposed change of the name of Brand boulevard south of San Fernando road. The communication was ordered to be laid over for one week.

The engineer of the Public Service Department recommended the acceptance of the bid of Kent & Son for the construction of a building over the pumping plant on San Fernando Road. On motion of Trustee Henry the recommendation of the engineer was adopted.

Demands were presented and referred to the finance committee and later approved on motion of Trustee Stephenson and warrants were ordered to be issued in payment of same.

The city attorney presented a communication from Attorney J. C. Thomson of New York City naming $100 as the fee to be received by him in the event of his furnishing a favorable opinion on the recent $100,000 bond issue. On motion of Trustee Henry the proposition of Mr. Thomson was ordered to be accepted. On motion of Trustee Stephenson the city attorney was directed to submit the proceedings already taken in regard to the $100,000 bond issue to

Mr. Thomson for an opinion before further steps should be taken.

Trustee Henry presented an ordinance repealing ordinance No. 394 regulating motion picture production establishments and same was read and laid over.

The city engineer reported on bids received for the improvement of Maple street to the effect that the lowest bidder was Peter L. Ferry whose bid aggregates $24,802.10. Trustee Bartlett offered a resolution which was adopted awarding the contract for the improvement of Maple street to Peter L. Ferry at the price named in his bid.

The city engineer made a report on the petition for the opening of Stanley avenue to the effect that the total frontage in the proposed district is 3,331.5 feet and that the petition for the opening is signed by property owners representing 2,032.68 feet. On motion the matter of the opening of Stanley avenue was referred to the city attorney to prepare proceedings, the city engineer to furnish descriptions.

At this time the count of the votes cast at the election of November 16, for a board of fifteen freeholders was ordered to be taken up. The chairman appointed Trustees Robinson and Stephenson to count the votes. At the conclusion of the count the tellers made their report which was embodied in a resolution presented by Trustee Stephenson.

Bonds were presented to the board covering a number of city officials and the same were referred to the city attorney and later reported back approved by him.

Trustee Robinson offered a resolution which was adopted as Resolution No. 1138 approving map of tract 2946.

On motion of Trustee Stephenson a resolution was adopted adopting plans and specifications for the improvement of Arden avenue. On motion of Trustee Stephenson a resolution was adopted to improve a portion of Arden avenue.

On motion a resolution was adopted adopting plans, profiles, specifications, etc., for the improvement of Dayton Court. On motion a resolution was adopted declaring intention to improve Dayton Court.

On motion the city clerk was directed to give notice of their election to the fifteen freeholders elected at the election of November 16, to issue to them certificates of office and administer the required oath.

Fifty Years From Now

Population follows economic needs. The United States forest service, district of California, has partially completed an economic survey of the entire state, with a view to determining where the state's population will reside fifty years from now. The purpose of this study is to determine the proper spots for reforestation or conservation of present lumber supply. Many interesting deductions have already resulted, which indicate among other things that while California at present imports a large part of its lumber from states to the north, there is within the state a lumber supply adequate for many decades if transportation could be furnished.

This is vital to the future of the housing problem, for even if concrete or some new form of construction should replace frame houses, lumber would still be needed. There is warrant for the statement that California will never suffer as acutely from housing shortage as will other states of less economic advantage.

Proof

An English student had a barrel of ale deposited in his room, contrary, of course, to rule and usage. He received a summons to appear before the president.

"Sir, I am informed that you have a barrel of ale in your room," said the latter.

"Well, what explanation can you make?"

"Why, the fact is, sir, my physician advised me to try a little each day as a tonic, and not wishing to go to the various places where the beverage is retailed, I arranged to have a barrel taken to my room."

"Indeed, and have you derived any benefit from the use of it?"

"Oh, yes, sir. When the barrel was first taken to my room I could scarcely lift it. Now I can carry it easily."

New Idea for Pictures

It is not often that an entirely new method of producing pictures is discovered, and an Oregon artist is attracting considerable attention with a process as pleasing as it is original. Instead of using fluid pigments of any kind, bits of colored cloth, painstakingly cut to particular shape and size of each detail of the work, are pasted upon the canvas background, which is stretched over thin board. Some of the almost infinitesimal particles of fabric are shredded out to mere threads to get the desired effect, while the bulkier objects of the scene are built up in relief, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. A sharp-pointed stick serves as a brush for this curious art. The finished pictures exemplify the remarkable results attained when patience and the artistic sense are co-ordinated.

Didn't Recognize Him

Gordon married a widow with eight children who, in course of time, presented him with ten children. One evening he found in the street where he lived, a little boy, weeping bitterly.

"What's the matter, little man?" inquired Gordon, caressing him.

"I've lost my way," sobbed the youngster.

"Then come home with me, I'll give you something to eat and take care of you."

Accordingly, our kind-hearted friend took the little fellow home, and said to his wife:

"See, dear, I have brought you this child. I found him all alone in the street. One more or less won't make much difference; we will treat him as if he were our own."

"Why, you stupid! Don't you know him? It's our Percy!"—Columbus, O. Dispatch.

Warren G. Harding, president-elect, made 171 speeches during his campaign.

NOT PRODIGES

The entrance of 12-year-old Edward R. Hardy as an unusually well-prepared student in Columbia college is prompting injudicious use of the word "prodigy." It would be unfortunate for him and his parents if this were true. Instead, he is a "bright boy," very large for his age and well advanced mentally, who inherits good brains and has been well taught.

One must take with a grain of salt many tales of boy prodigies of the past. John Evelyn, mourning the death of a son who but little above 5 years old, learned French from his mother, "with incredible delight," Greek irregular verbs and demonstrated Euclid in Latin, and he grew up to prove that a boy who read Greek at 5 may become a statesman and philosopher and write a deathless essay on "Liberty." But many mothers pitted the grown-up Mill for having no childhood and not knowing how to play.

There are probably some thousands of children of both sexes in New York who could do what young Hardy has done if they were not brigaded in classroom with less precocious children and handicapped by absurdity, long vacations, and if their parents believed it wise to push them. There is almost no limit to the curiosity of childhood about facts of any kind if they are made interesting. The child who at 10 reads grown-up books—and every librarian knows of them—should have little difficulty in mastering most high school studies with such instruction as Master Hardy has had in Horace Mann school and at home.

"Why all the fuss?" asks Freshman Hardy. Right! A good swimmer and anxious as to his chances at football, Hardy, '24, is not a "prodigy."—New York World.

His Method

Two negro men were discussing the eloquence of a certain member of the faculty of an educational institution for negroes in a Southern state.

"That Professor Briggs sure does like to use high soundin' words, don't he?" asked one of them.

"Maybe dat's jest an affection on his part," said the other darky. "Some folks do like to put on airs in talkin'."

"No, I don't figure it out dat way," said the other. "I kinder think he uses them big words because he's afraid dat if people knew what he was talkin' about they'd know he didn't know what he was talkin' about."—Harper's Magazine.

"Orangeade" and "orange crush" that never come closer to an orange than the tanks of a synthetic chemical laboratory are hereafter to be deemed "misbranded," and the vendors prosecuted accordingly.

Guilty of Something

A motorist was summoned before a magistrate for exceeding the speed limit. The magistrate was not convinced that the car had been driven too fast, and the motorist insisted that he had been progressing at the rate of only six miles per hour. "Why, your worship, I was going very slowly because I was afraid it would break down completely! I give you my word, sir, you could have walked as fast as I was running."

"Well," said the magistrate after due reflection, "you don't appear to have been exceeding the speed limit but at the same time you must have been guilty of something or you wouldn't be here. I fine you two pounds for loitering."—London Titbits.

Flow of Language

A colored preacher, one of the men who are never at a loss for words, was commending to his congregation one of the organs of the church, and this is how he did it: "The missionary bulletin of this church needs subscribers. It is young and unfinancial, but through the instrumentality of backbone and I grant it will become an ideal. It was ushered into existence out of purely innocent contemplation of moral and religious good, which would, in all probability, result from carefully agitated principles of righteousness. The bulletin will be observed mingling in social convolutions to furnish with sheaves of harvests of those reasonable products common to social contingencies. The tone of the whole will be missionary work."

Home Ownership

The advantages of home ownership are being felt and understood today as never before. The most desirable community in which to live and rear a family is one in which a large percentage of the people own their own homes. They are permanent residents and have the interests of the community at heart.

Glendale is a home-owning community and as such is known all over the United States. The fact that Glendale is known as a City of Homes is responsible for her wonderful and phenomenal growth.

More people are building now than ever before. More people are taking advantage of our Building Service and seeking our advice in matters of building.

We are doing all we can to help Glendale to sustain her reputation as a home-owning city, from making quick deliveries of building material to referring you to reliable contractors and giving you any information as to building that you may desire.

VICTORY MEDALS

FOR FORMER MARINES WHO SERVED BETWEEN APRIL 6, 1917, AND NOV. 11, 1918

Victory medals, clasps, bronze and silver stars and maltese crosses are now available for distribution to former officers and men who served honorably in the Marine Corps between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, and may be had by presenting their discharge certificates at the nearest Marine Corps recruiting station.

Battle clasps will be issued with each medal to such officers and men who served in the Aisne defensive, and the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives. In addition to these major operations, a defensive sector clasp is awarded for service in one or more of the following engagements: Verdun sector, Chateau-Thierry and Marbache sector. Not more than one defensive sector clasp will be awarded to any individual, and the total number of clasps or bronze stars to which any one may be entitled are five, i. e.: Four battle clasps and one defensive sector clasp. One bronze star will be issued for each clasp awarded, the stars to be worn on the service ribbon or bar as it is sometimes called.

For marines who reached France and who did not get into action, a clasp marked "France" will be awarded for wear with the Victory medal and a maltese cross. Instead of a bronze star, will be issued for wear in the service ribbon or bar.

Clasps are also awarded for duty with the Grand fleet, Asiatic fleet, Atlantic fleet and for patrol, escort, aviation and overseas duty, for which one bronze star on the service ribbon is authorized. The "overseas" clasp is for service on shore in Allied or enemy countries or Europe other than France.

A silver star will be awarded with each Victory medal to be worn on the ribbon of the medal to such marines who have been commended as a result of the recommendation of the board of awards by the Secretary of the Navy for performance of duty not justifying the award of a medal of honor, a distinguished service medal or a navy cross. More than one silver star may be worn on the ribbon of the medal according to the awards made the marine in question.

The policy of the recruiting station at Los Angeles is to encourage as far as possible propriety in the matter of wearing insignia. To this end, it is advised that a man should not wear his service ribbon, or bar, at the same time he is wearing the medal which such ribbon represents. The purpose of the ribbons is primarily to avoid the necessity of at all times appearing with medals pinned on the blouse. Either a marine should appear with all service ribbons or all medals and medals are supposed to be worn only on stated occasions.

Toys Made in U. S.

The sale of toys in the United States during the year 1919, amounted to nearly $100,000,000. It is estimated that $80,000,000 worth of these toys were of domestic manufacture. The manufacture of toys has been developed in this country during the last six years to a point where the United States now exports in steadily increasing quantities. It is said that many American toys make a particular appeal because of their scientific and mechanical nature. No other country, it is claimed, has developed instructive and educational toys in the same degree as the United States.

Better Day for Mexico

The backwardness of Mexico is strikingly illustrated by demonstrations favorable to the Russian soviet delusion given by workmen supporting the proposition for a general strike. If the truth about the failure of sovietism in Russia and its rejection by the "proletariat" of practically every other European country has not penetrated to Mexico, this is to be accounted for by the dense ignorance prevailing south of the Rio Grande, due to lack of means of communication.

The prompt action of Huerta in sending troops to Vera Cruz is commendable. But something more than force is necessary to bring industrial and political peace in Mexico. The people must be informed of what actually is going on in the world, and they must be accorded fair treatment. Justly treated they will be content with seeking by orderly processes to obtain general betterments of conditions to which they are entitled. Indications are that a better day is dawning for the Mexicans. Its coming will be welcomed the world around.

MEXICAN PORTS

BID FOR INCREASED INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE; "FREE ZONES" ON BOTH COASTS

By RALPH H. TURNER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 18. (By Mail.)—Mexico's newest bid for an increased international commerce, represented by the creation of "free zones" on both the east and west coasts, has just become a law. This movement, sponsored by Secretary of the Treasury Alvarado and enacted into law by a decree over the signature of President De la Huerta, provides that Guaymas and Salina Cruz, on the west coast, and Puerto Mexico, on the east, shall be converted into free ports.

According to its official backers, the project will stimulate manufacturing within Mexico, at the same time promoting the country's foreign trade. During the discussion of the proposition, heavy opposition was aroused. Many of its opponents declared the idea was impractical and simply represented the desire of certain government leaders to promote their private interests. Regardless of its merits, however, the project is interesting because of its proposed relation to the commerce of North and South America, as well as Europe and Asia.

The central idea of the plan has been directed toward utilizing the narrow strip of territory known as the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, which is traversed through the states of Vera Cruz and Oaxaca by the Tehuantepec Railway, with Salina Cruz and Puerto Mexico as its termini. Mexican officials assert that by converting both of these cities into free ports, the isthmus can be made a center of foreign trade in the Western Hemisphere, second only to the Panama Canal. Thus, by the terms of the law, free zones will be established surrounding the ports, customs formalities will be suspended, and merchandise which is in transit, or which is to be re-exported outside the country, will be admitted free of duty.

The officials believe that the zones will then serve as assembling places for raw materials which may be turned into manufactured products within the zones, thus upbuilding national industry. The Tehuantepec Railway, it is hoped, will serve as a logical medium for the transit and distribution of merchandise between North and South America and Europe and the Orient. Bonded warehouses will form one feature of the new program.

Guaymas, it is pointed out, also has been made a free port because its location in the Gulf of California, in the northern state of Sonora, gives it a position of vantage with respect to North American and Asiatic commerce. Guaymas also is the southern terminus of the Southern Pacific Railway of Mexico, which would be expected to transport raw products from northwestern Mexico, developing Guaymas as a manufacturing and exporting center.

The decree provides that the free ports of Salina Cruz and Puerto Mexico, as well as the Tehuantepec Railway, be placed under the administration of a single board of directors, to be named by the government.

Discuss Negro Schools

(By United Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 19.—State governors, legislators, college professors and citizens of several southern states attended a conference opening here today. It was called by Dr. P. P. Claxton, Federal Commissioner of Education, to discuss negro schools.

The federal government is contributing a portion of millions now spent annually on schools for 12,000,000 negroes, most of whom live in southern states. Appropriations for this purpose soon will be increased, Dr. Claxton pointed out in calling the conference.

A general survey of negro education based on a report by Dr. Walton C. John of the U. S. Bureau of Education, will be used as a basis of discussion by the conference.

America in Poland

(By United Press)

WARSAW, Poland. (By Mail.)—Two thousand starving babies, besides 10,000 hospital patients, 5,000 orphans, 2,000 aged and 300 war invalids were given American relief in Liew during the Polish occupation of that city last summer, says an official report just made public at American Red Cross headquarters here. The recent military crisis delayed publication of the report. According to the American Red Cross statement, 41 hospitals, 30 orphanages, 19 homes for the aged and 10 child feeding stations were cared for during the one month which the American Red Cross carried on its work in the Ukrainian city.

Mexican Heroes

By United Press)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 18.—Mexico has no hall of fame in which to display her heroes—heroes who are never deemed such until they are dead. But there are half a dozen vendors of plaster of Paris statuettes, men who wend their way through the capital's streets, displaying their wares on the sidewalks. Not only do they set the style in heroes, as they place a new bust on the market from time to time, but they provide an interesting insight into the fickle reactions of a revolutionary public.

A year or so ago there appeared the plaster likeness of Don Porfirio Diaz, the president whose overthrow raised the nation-wide cry of revolutionary liberty. Don Porfirio's bust found a ready sale. He is a hero now. There have been many revolutions since Don Porfirio's time. The other day the statue vendors placed a new bust on the sidewalk. The face was familiar, as the original had been one of the best hated men in Mexico. There were whiskers, finally moulded in the plaster. It was Venustiano Carranza.

Richest Oil Field

EDMONTON, Alta.—The richest oil field in the world is believed to have been discovered in the Mackenzie river basin. It is supposed to extend between the Rocky mountains and the Great Barrens, Great Slave lake and the Arctic ocean, following roughly the course of the Mackenzie river.

Great Britain exported 26,400,000 pounds of candles in 1919.

MANY HUNTERS

UNITED STATES NOW HAS SEVEN MILLION NIMRODS, ACCORDING TO REPORT

This is a Nation of Nimrods. There are 7,000,000 hunters in the United States, according to the chief United States game warden in the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture. This estimate was made from reports on the number of game licenses issued by the various states.

In 1919, 3,600,000 state licenses were issued, and in addition it is estimated that 3,500,000 hunters are exempted under various state provisions. The returns to the states from licenses was approximately $4,500,000, all of which was expended by the states in administration of state laws for the protection of game. This sum permits the employment of approximately 2000 salaried state game wardens and 600 fee wardens. The congressional appropriation for federal game warden service for protection of migratory birds is $142,500, which permits the employment of only 29 salaried wardens.

At its recent meeting in Ottawa the International Association of Fish, Game, and Conservation Commissioners adopted a resolution calling for the issuance of federal licenses for hunting migratory birds. The recommendation called for licenses in the form of special stamps to be issued by postmasters and attached to state licenses. It was estimated that the revenue from such licenses would amount to between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, which could be used for the protection of game.

LIBERTY BONDS

New Missionary Record

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The largest number of new missionaries ever sent to foreign fields in any one year in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church were sent during the fiscal year ending November 1, 1920, according to announcement today by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, here. The largest previous year was 1917, when 96 recruits were appointed and sent out by the Methodists. During the fiscal year just concluded, 275 new missionaries were appointed, of which 80 were assigned to South America, 69 to China, 50 to India and Burma, 30 to Malaysia, 6 to Mexico, 5 to Japan, 2 to Korea and 2 to Europe. The list does not include relief workers in European war areas.

ORDINANCE NO. 411

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE OF PUBLIC AND PRIVATE AUTOMOBILE GARAGES, AUTOMOBILE FILLING STATIONS, GASOLINE CURB PUMPS, AND PORTABLE FILLING TANK OR BUGGY AND REPEALING ORDINANCE 377.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of this ordinance the term "public garage" is defined to be a building where automobiles are kept or stored by the public, or where automobiles are rented to or hired by the public, or where a charge is made for the use, repair, storage or keeping of automobiles.

For the purpose of this ordinance the term "private garage" is defined to be a building where one or more automobiles are kept or stored for private use only, and are not rented to or hired by the public, and where no charge is made for the storage of the same.

For the purpose of this ordinance the word "gasoline" shall be deemed to mean and include any product of petroleum or any hydro-carbon liquid that will flash or emit an inflammable vapor below the temperature of one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit.

For the purpose of this ordinance the term "automobile filling station" is defined to be any lot, premises or building or any portion thereof, which is used wholly or in part for the purpose of furnishing gasoline (in the open air), to motor-driven vehicles.

For the purpose of this ordinance the term "curb pump" is defined to be any pumping device used for the purpose of pumping gasoline from an underground storage tank (and measuring same for selling purposes), which pump is located in any street, alley or public place in the City of Glendale.

For the purpose of this ordinance the term "portable filling tank or buggy" is defined to be any portable pumping device used for the purpose of pumping gasoline from a portable tank (and measuring same for selling purposes,) which device is mounted on all metal wheels with rubber tires.

SECTION 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish, conduct, maintain or use, or cause or permit to be established, conducted, maintained or used any public or private garage, automobile filling station or curb pump without first obtaining a permit in writing therefor from the Superintendent of Buildings, and paying a fee of One ($1.00) Dollar for each such permit. Each such permit shall contain the name of the person, firm or corporation to whom the same is issued, and shall specify whether the same is issued for a public or private garage, automobile filling station or curb pump, the location by street and number of the premises upon which such garage, automobile filling station or curb pump is or is to be located, the amount of gasoline that may be stored therein and in connection therewith, and the exact location where gasoline storage tanks, if any, shall be placed. No permit shall be granted for the establishment, conduct, maintenance or use of any public or private garage or automobile filling station in any part of a building that is used or occupied as a hotel, apartment house, rooming house, or lodging house, or in any building in which any room or rooms above the ground floor are used or intended for use as a dwelling by one or more families, or in any part of a building which is used for public or private assemblages. Any permit for the installation of a curb pump issued under the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to revocation by the Board of Trustees at any time upon sixty (60) days' notice in writing, which notice shall be given as provided in Section 5 of this Ordinance.

SECTION 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to construct, erect or maintain, or to cause or permit to be constructed, erected or maintained any public garage in the City of Glendale within one hundred feet of any public school building, hospital, church or fire station, provided, however, that the provisions of said section shall not apply to any public garage constructed, erected or maintained at the time of the passage of this ordinance.

SECTION 4. No permit shall be granted for the establishment, conduct, maintenance or use of any public or private garage, automobile filling station or curb pump that does not comply in all respect with the requirements of this ordinance and before there shall be issued any permit for the construction of a gasoline filling station or for the installation of curb pump to be hereafter constructed or installed, an investigation shall be made as to the advisability of such installation at the said location by the City Manager, the Superintendent of Buildings, and the Fire Marshal, and if, in the judgment of a majority of said officials, the said location is not a proper one, said permit shall not be granted. In event the said applicant is not satisfied with such decision he shall be entitled, upon his application, to a hearing of the matter before the Board of Trustees, whose decision shall be final; provided, that public notice of said hearing shall be published at least one week prior to the date of such hearing.

SECTION 5. In the event that any person, firm or corporation holding a permit to establish, conduct, maintain or use any building or premises as a public or private garage or automobile filling station or to establish, conduct, maintain, or use a curb pump shall violate, or shall cause or permit to be violated, any of the provisions of this ordinance or any other ordinance relating to or regulating public or private garages, automobile filling stations, or curb pumps, or shall conduct or carry on the same in an unlawful manner, or shall cause or permit the same so to be carried on, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Buildings and said Superintendent of Buildings shall in addition to the other penalties provided by this ordinance, suspend the permit issued to such person, firm or corporation until a hearing shall have been had by the Board of Trustees in the matter of the revocation of such permit, notice of which hearing shall be given in writing at least three days prior to the date of such hearing, stating the ground of complaint against the holder of such permit and the time and place where such hearing shall be had. Such notice shall be served upon the holder of such permit by delivering the same to such person, firm or corporation, or to his or its manager or agent or to any person in charge of or employed in the place of business of such holder, or if such person has no place of business than at his place of residence; or by leaving such notice at the place of business of such person, firm or corporation, or at any place of business or residence of such person, with some person of suitable age and discretion. If the holder of such permit cannot be found and service of such notice cannot be made upon him or it in the manner herein provided, then a copy of such notice shall be mailed, postage fully prepaid, addressed to such holder of such permit at such place of business or residence, at least three days prior to the date of such hearing. If upon the hearing a violation of any law or ordinance, as stated in the notice, shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Board of Trustees, said Board shall revoke such permit.

SECTION 6. Every building hereafter erected and every building hereafter altered or changed for use as public garage shall be built of brick, hollow tile, or concrete, or some other like fireproof construction, and shall conform to regulations for buildings in Fire District No. 1 as set forth by ordinance and to the provisions of this ordinance. The flooring of any such building shall be constructed of concrete, with a system of ventilation having openings to the outer air at the floor and ceiling lines of not less than six inches by eight inches for each ventilator.

SECTION 7. There shall be maintained at all times in every public garage having a floor space of not over two thousand (2000) square feet at least two chemical fire extinguishers, approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters; each containing not less than two and one-half gallons of chemical, and there shall be maintained at all times in every such garage at least one additional such chemical fire extinguisher for every additional fifteen hundred square feet of floor space or portion thereof.

SECTION 8. Any room or portion of a room in a public garage hereafter erected, altered or changed, which is maintained as an automobile repair shop shall be separated from any and all other rooms used or maintained in connection with such garage by a fireproof partition reaching to or passing through the roof of such building. Every such partition shall be constructed in accordance with the provisions of said City Ordinance regulating the construction of the class of building to which such building belongs.

SECTION 9. No building used in connection with an automobile filling station shall exceed one (1) story in height and every such building hereafter erected, altered or changed shall be erected, constructed and maintained in conformity to the provisions of this ordinance governing the construction of public garages; provided, however, that outside of Fire Districts Nos. 1 and 2 any such building may be of frame construction without cellar or basement. The floors of every such building shall be constructed of earth or concrete.

SECTION 10. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish, conduct, maintain or use, or to cause or permit to be established, conducted, maintained, or used, as a public or private garage or automobile station, any part of any building that is used or occupied as a hotel, apartment house, rooming house or lodging house, or any part of any building that is used for public or private assemblages, or of any building in which any room or rooms above the ground floor is used or intended for use as a dwelling by one or more families.

SECTION 11. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to keep or store, or to cause or permit to be kept or stored, any gasoline in or about or for use in connection with any public or private garage; automobile filling station or curb pump in a manner contrary to the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 12. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to store or keep, or to cause or permit to be stored or kept, any gasoline for use in or about or in connection with a public or private garage or automobile filling station, or curb pump, except as hereinbefore or hereafter provided; provided that any storage facilities now installed and in use may be used as they now are, but upon any repair or alteration thereof the same shall be made to conform to the provisions of this ordinance. All gasoline shall be stored in a tank or tanks outside of the walls of any building. Every such tank shall be constructed of not less than No. 14 gauge galvanized steel, riveted to steel joint or oxy-acetylene or electric welded tanks, and coated with tar or other rust-resisting material, or shall be constructed of iron of not less than three-sixteenths of an inch in thickness, riveted and caulked, and coated with tar or other rust-resisting material.

Every such storage tank shall be buried under ground outside the walls of any building. The top of each such tank shall be at least four feet below the surface of the ground. The space above the top of each tank shall be filled with earth so as to be level with the surface of the surrounding ground.

No such storage tank shall be located nearer to any building than five feet unless such tank is enclosed in brick or concrete walls not less than twelve inches in thickness. In any case where more than one such storage tank is installed, there

ATTACKING FINAL DEFENSES

A peeress is knocking for admission to the British house of lords. The only reason for keeping her out is that toleration of a woman sitting in that body just hasn't been done. With a woman in the house of commons it is reasonable to expect a woman, hitherto disqualified only because of her sex, to break down the barriers before long and take her seat with the others that constitute that ancient legislative body which has ceased to be much of anything but an entity.

The situation is unimportant except as indicating the progress of woman in attaining rights equal with men. The entrance of women to the house of lords would not reform that body or make it modern in thought. The house of lords is an anachronism even in England. The situation makes plain that not much longer will any position or honor to which men alone have aspired be reserved to them. The door already has been opened to women. It merely remains for them to gain equal rights with men in the comforts and emoluments of a few odd corners hitherto sacred to males.

A member of the Russian royal family escaped from the bolshevik with family heirlooms baked in a loaf of bread.

WE remain steadfast in our purpose to conduct our business in an efficient, commendable manner. Our reliability is unquestioned. Our business conduct has been such that it has won for us the public's approval.

A Feeling of

Thanksgiving

Comes over us as we look back over the years we have been engaged in building in Glendale and think of the confidence that has been reposed in us by those for whom we have done work.

As we pass the hundreds of homes, schools, theatres, club houses, business blocks and other public buildings that we have erected we are indeed grateful for the part that we have had in building up this beautiful city.

We expect to continue to help in this way in Glendale's future growth and we have a complete organization of architects, engineers and craftsmen of every kind at the service of the man who wishes to build.

shall be constructed between each two adjacent tanks, a brick or concrete wall not less than twelve inches in thickness. Such wall shall be at least two feet distant from each tank, and shall extend at least one foot below the bottom of such tanks and up to a level with the surface of the ground or sidewalk. The space between such wall and each such tank shall be filled with earth.

No such storage tank shall be connected with another so that gasoline can flow from one tank to another.

Every supply pipe from tank to pump shall have an independent shut-off valve so that no more than one tank may be pumped from at any one time.

No such storage tank shall be covered with earth until after the same shall have been inspected by the Superintendent of Buildings.

No tank shall be of such capacity as to contain more than five hundred (500) gallons. Not more than three such tanks shall be allowed at or in connection with nor shall more than fifteen hundred (1500) gallons, in the aggregate, of gasoline be stored for any public garage, automobile filling station or curb pump.

Not more than one such tank of a capacity not exceeding two hundred (200) gallons of gasoline shall be allowed at, or in connection with, or stored for any private garage, except that there shall be allowed at or in connection with, or stored for any private garage in which more than ten automobiles are regularly kept or stored, two such tanks of a capacity not exceeding three hundred gallons of gasoline each, or three such tanks of a capacity not exceeding two hundred gallons of gasoline each; provided, however, that for a private garage only, not more than fifty gallons of gasoline, in a tank constructed as above provided and contained in a locked enclosure with ventilated sides may be stored above the ground, not nearer than thirty feet to any building. No such tank above ground shall be connected with such garage by piping, nor shall more than two hundred gallons, in the aggregate, of gasoline be stored for any private garage, except as aforesaid. Every private garage in which are regularly kept or stored ten or more automobiles shall be constructed as is provided by SECTION 6 of this ordinance, except that the floor thereof may be constructed of earth or concrete.

SECTION 13. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to install, construct or maintain, or to cause or permit to be installed, constructed or maintained, any storage tank for storing gasoline for use in or about any public or private garage or automobile filling station, at a location other than that specified in the permit therefor issued by the Superintendent of Buildings or in a manner other than as herein provided; provided further, that in all cases where street excavations are required in connection with permits granted under the provisions of this ordinance, permits therefor shall be required in connection with permits granted under the provisions of this ordinance; permits therefor shall be required as provided by Ordinance.

SECTION 14. Every storage tank maintained in connection with a public garage, automobile filling station or curb pump shall be connected with an automatic closing pump, or other device approved by the Board of Trustees. Any such pump or device may be located inside the building but not below the surface of the first floor, and shall be located above the top of the tank with which it is connected. Every gasoline discharge pipe maintained in connection with a hydraulic or pressure storage system shall be equipped with an emergency shut-off valve located above the floor level, in addition to the shut-off valve maintained at the outlet of the hose. Every gasoline discharge pipe located above the floor level maintained in connection with a hydraulic or pressure storage system shall be protected from mechanical injury for not less than four (4) feet above the water-control valve, and for not less than four (4) feet above the floor level.

SECTION 15. Every pipe shall lead out of the top of the tank with which it is connected and shall be put together with litharge and glycerine. A galvanized iron vent pipe, not less than 3/4 inch in diameter, shall extend from each tank up alongside the building to a point not less than two feet above the roof of such building, when in the judgment of the Superintendent of Buildings the same is deemed necessary; provided, that the outlet of said vent pipe shall in no event be less than ten feet above the street grade or ground level, and shall be provided with a return ell; provided, further, that no such vent pipe shall be required for any storage tank maintained in connection with a hydraulic or pressure storage system. A filling pipe shall be connected with every gasoline storage tank. Every such pipe shall extend up to the ground level and shall be capped with a water-tight screwed cap.

SECTION 16. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to maintain or use, or to cause or permit to be maintained or used, more than one portable filling tank or buggy, in any garage, or any such portable filling tank or buggy that will contain more than fifty gallons of gasoline or that is not constructed and approved as provided in this section. Every such portable filling tank or buggy shall be mounted upon all metal wheels, with rubber tires, and shall be equipped with a pump fitted with a hose attachment not to exceed eight feet in length, fitted at the end with a ground shut-off nozzle. The gasoline shall be pumped into the reservoir or tank of the automobile from such portable filling tank or buggy, and before any such pump is used, the same or the design or type thereof, shall be approved by the Fire Marshal.

The Tank or Reservoir of an automobile may be filled from a portable filling tank or buggy constructed and approved as provided in this ordinance; provided, however, that such portable filling tank or buggy shall be kept at all times within ten feet of the entrance of the garage or automobile filling station in which the same is used.

SECTION 17. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to carry or convey, or to cause or permit to be carried or conveyed, any gasoline in or about any public garage or automobile filling station in an open can or in any can of any description unless such can shall be of an approved, non-explosive type and the design or type thereof, shall have been first approved by the Fire Marshal.

SECTION 18. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to permit any gasoline to remain in any open can or open receptacle of any kind in, upon or about any public garage or automobile filling station.

It shall be unlawful for any person to smoke, or for any person, firm or corporation to permit any smoking, inside of any building used as a public garage or automobile filling station. A notice containing the words "No Smoking," in large, plain letters, shall be displayed in conspicuous places in and about every such public garage and at all entrances thereto. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to cause or permit any sawdust, waste, rags or rubbish of any kind to remain in or about any such garage or automobile filling station or any repair shop connected with such garage, except in a metal receptacle, fitted with a close fitting metal cover, or to put into or take out of, or to cause or permit to be put into or taken out of any automobile, any gasoline in any room of any public garage or automobile filling station in which there is an open light, or to fill, or to cause or permit to be filled, any lamp of any automobile while the light in such lamps is burning, or to use or to cause or permit to be used, any artificial light of any kind other than electricity in any such public garage or automobile filling station, except in the office, the retiring room and the repair shop connected with such garage or automobile filling station, or to permit any electric motor, not actually a part of an automobile to be located or to remain within four feet of the floor of any such garage or automobile filling station, or to permit any oil, gasoline or other inflammable material of any kind whatsoever to be stored or kept in any locker in or about any such garage or automobile filling station, or to maintain, or use, or to permit to be used, any locker in any such garage or automobile filling station if such locker is so constructed as not to permit of ready inspection thereof.

SECTION 19. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Buildings to see that the provisions of this ordinance are complied with, and for that purpose he is hereby authorized and empowered to enter any building used as a public or private garage or automobile filling station and all parts of any such garage or automobile filling station during business hours.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, to fail, refuse, or neglect to permit the Superintendent of Buildings or any of his deputies to enter and examine any building used as a public or private garage or automobile filling station, or any part of any such garage or automobile filling station during business hours, or to interfere in any manner with the said Superintendent of Buildings, or any of his deputies, in the performance of their duties.

SECTION 20. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use or cause or permit to be used in any public garage or private garage, any gasoline or distillate under pressure for the purpose of cleaning any automobile or any part or parts of any automobile, without first obtaining permission in writing from the Superintendent of Buildings. Such permission shall only be for spraying to be done in open shed or room properly ventilated.

SECTION 21. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the City Jail for a period of not more than three months, or both such fines and imprisonment.

SECTION 22. Ordinance No. 377, "AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE OF PUBLIC AND PRIVATE AUTOMOBILE GARAGES, AUTOMOBILE FILLING STATIONS AND GASOLINE CURB PUMPS" is hereby repealed.

SECTION 23. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Glendale Sentinel-Progress, a weekly newspaper published and circulated in the City of Glendale and thereupon and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect.

DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON, President Pro tem of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Attest:
J. C. SHERER,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

WORLD NEEDS OPTIMISM

No individual can live a normal life under influences that make for the utmost in pessimism. Nations are made up of individuals, and no nation can make progress if its own woes and the woes of the world in general are being constantly paraded for the purposes of arousing sympathy or enabling some writer to earn a little money from the magazines.

The United States in particular is just now suffering from the distribution of the aftermath of the world war—the dissemination of criticism of rulers and statesmen and cynicism regarding the motives and purposes of men and women as they relate to the interests of the common people.

It is true that countries like Armenia and Austria are just now in need of the substantial aid of all people charitably disposed, and it is also true that other millions need encouragement in their efforts to recover from the effects of the world war; but America especially is being "fed up" with the jeremiads of pedantic contributors to magazines and other periodicals.

Sometimes it is not sympathy, but a kick, that will do the individual the most good, for it will encourage him to go out and do something for himself. Workers, not whiners, are the need of the time in every nation, and this one in particular.

Radicalism in literature is the bane of any people, and there has been a flood of this sort of writing in the United States for some time. The world needs constructive criticism, but it should not be weakened in its efforts to make progress by the pessimists who decry everything that does not originate in their own circumscribed minds.

PROBLEM OF ECONOMICS

The dilemma of the small boy who wanted to eat his cake and have it too was hardly less perplexing than the problem of the persons who are anxious to have a reduction in the cost of living and at the same time maintain the wage standard and the prices of things which they may have to sell.

However one may desire that wages of workers be maintained at the present standard, it can hardly be done if the level of prices of clothing, food and the things that enter into the general life of the people is to be lowered. One thing is plain to those who are only indirectly interested in the contentions of employers and employees in industry—those who are asked to do the paying ultimately—that there must be mutual concessions on the part of employers and employees if satisfactory adjustments are to be made.

There is the conviction that employers and employees should understand more about their respective attitudes and the reasons for assuming them. Labor will be the loser to a very large extent if it undertakes to maintain wages at a height that will prevent manufacturing at a profit, for workers must depend altogether on production and continued employment.

It is becoming evident that there is no general plan for the adjustment of present economic situation as it relates to industrial conditions. Each concern must work out its own understandings, and most satisfactory results will follow a sympathetic consideration of all the circumstances that enter into the case.

SOCIAL LIFE IN THE COUNTRY

One hears considerable these days about the lack of social life in the rural districts and the drabness that accompanies living on the farm. It is likely that these conditions are exaggerated, or the life in the cities and towns is so magnified in attractiveness that the comparison creates a feeling of discontent on the part of country folk.

It is true that urban communities offer many inducements to pleasure that are not found in the rural districts, but when it is considered that all life is relative—that its appreciation depends upon comparison with something else—the country still offers some things that are worth while.

The grange has done much to maintain the social life of the rural communities, and families for several miles around are drawn together on stated occasions for a program that is both instructive and entertaining. These grange programs do much to overcome the feeling that nothing of a desirable character is found in the rural districts.

The singing school, the writing school and the spelling bees are not as plentiful as they should be, for they would contribute to an appreciation of the things that make life in the country attractive. It is certain that Cupid can carry on his designed work at one of these meetings in the country even more effectively than in the movie shows of the city.

It may be too much to urge residents of the rural districts to increase the attractiveness of their social life by a return to some of the things that meant so much to country people in other days, just now when the lure of the city is so strong; but the time is coming when the trend will be toward the country, and many of the ideas learned in the cities will be adapted to life in the country.

Better roads, rural mail, the telephone and the increasing use of automobiles will have their effect in making life in the country more attractive. Much of the artificiality of city life will be revealed and many persons will be glad to resume the more natural life when nature is found in her most soothing moods.

THE GYPSIES

Have you ever been to the gypsies to have your fortune told? Have you crossed their palms with silver, after the accepted rite, and have you wondered, when their wagons trundled out of town, why they never settle down? The gypsies are very reticent about themselves. Their usual answer when asked concerning their parentage is: "My father is a crow, and my mother a magpie." Yet they dwell in America and Europe, in the midst of progressive culture, still possessed of customs, rites and practices known to their ancestors a thousand years ago.

The Romalis, the gypsy dance, is a relic of old Egypt. There is a sort of primitive tribal law among them, too. The leader, who when other folks' laws were less strict than at present, was also the chief beggar and petty thief, was known as the yegg. The word has got a wider circulation now. The gypsies are believed to have introduced playing cards into Europe in the middle ages. The world has milled its way since then to higher and higher reaches of civilization, but the gypsies, a laugh or a curse on their lips, have slouched along the highroad, carefree, ignorant and happy.

What We Eat Today Is Walking Around Tomorrow

So says one of the greatest medical authorities in the world. It is hard to believe that the food we eat can make us drunk. But such is the case. This is what is meant by auto-intoxication. The retention in the stomach of undigested, fermenting food, the clogging of the intestines by waste matter give rise to all manner of ills. Auto-intoxication is a serious condition because of the host of ailments that follow in its train.

This explains why we give so much attention to a dietetic treatment. Why we exclude from the bill of fare certain foods known to be unwholesome, indigestible and productive of disease.

But you don't miss the things that are banned because there are so many other things to take their places. Dieting is made a delight.

White Houses

(By United Press)

PITTSBURG, Nov. 18.—A proposal to build in every foreign capital where the United States is represented an accurate replica of the White House in Washington, to be used as a residence for American embassies or legations will be presented to Congress this winter by Representative Stephen G. Porter of Pittsburgh.

It has been proposed that these miniature White Houses be built by American labor, exported for the purpose.

Congressman Porter was a member of the Congressional party that recently toured Japan and China.

One hundred and ninety thousand men are being educated in the United States army schools.

"Can you imagine a man of Lincoln's common sense allowing himself to be tied up to an overwhelming moral obligation to sacrifice American young men for European quarrels beyond our control," says Arthur Brisbane in the Los Angeles Examiner.—Adv.
